Sam Harper

Director of Energy
Gerdau Steel

Consumer – Industrial Segment

Sam Harper is the Director of Energy for Gerdau Steel. In this capacity, he leads the team responsible for energy contracting, regulatory affairs, and demand response activities to support steel recycling facilities throughout North America.

Previously, Mr. Harper held the position of Sourcing Manager of Electricity for ArcelorMittal Steel, responsible for electricity market and regulatory activities for steel-making facilities throughout the United States. Mr. Harper also held roles in Systems & Technology and Procurement.

Mr. Harper attended the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, graduating with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration.